Augustus H. Fiske	1936 - 1940	Marion, MA	Little Kittie	H-14
Leila H. Fiske	1940 - 1942	Marion, MA	Little Kittie	H-14

Originally ordered by W. O. Taylor, publisher of The Boston Globe. Augustus H. Fiske bought her a few years later from a Mr. Goodwin, and renamed her from "Peggy" to "Little Kittie" after one of his daughters. She was sailed by the family into the 1940's, was sold a few times, and got back into the Fiske family in 1952 when she was bought by Andrew Fiske, one of Augustus' sons. Andrew passed away, and Alice "Allie" Fiske still owns her. She intends on passing the boat down through her family. It has been in Maine for the past few years getting restored. This restoration was completed in late summer 2004, and she was relaunched in Camden harbor. She will be going back to Shelter Island to Sylvester Manor, where she will again sail in the warmer waters of Long Island Sound.

Dr. James Wallace	1967 - 2005	Cohasset, MA	Wizard of Bristol

Dr. James Wallace of Cambridge and Cohasset acquired this boat in 1967. He removed the thwart and renamed her from Porpoise to Wizard of Bristol. Wizard is on the transom. She is in good shape, with some sistered ribs. It has replacement spars, but otherwise the boat is original. He bought it in 1967 for $100 from Dr. Bremen of Cohasset, who had bought from the original owner, Hallowell. Dr. Wallace donated the boat to the Herreshoff Marine Museum in 2005. She has not sailed since 2003.

F.G. Bourne	1915 - ????		Kiddie
Fred Hard	? - 8/2001	Stamford, CT

The original owner was Commodore Bourne, who made his fortune as the President of Singer Sewing Machines. You may remember that "The Commodore" was the Commodore of the New York Yacht Club around the turn of the century, when Captain Nat was knocking out some rather exceptional Cup Defenders. His house still stands not to far away from his 12, as the former home of the LaSalle Military Academy, and is now home to the Sayville Campus of Saint John's University.

Hull #768 was purchased for the Commodore's daughter to sail. In order to bring it will them on their Mediterranean vacations, #768 was equipped with two rather large ring bolts through the fore and after decks. With these, the 12 was lifted aboard the Commodore's rather large steam yacht. After all these years, the lift rings are still present, as is the transom design with the interior bracing. There is no rowing thwart, but the usual bench seats. The forward end of the cockpit has an open arch cut into the bulkhead, with varnished wood trim pieces framing the opening.

Now named Avalon, 768 is on display at the Long Island Maritime Museum. It was donated to the museum on August 2001 by Fred Hard, grandson of the original owner.

Stanley Pendleton	1999 - 2000	Islesboro, ME	Patience II
Alden Bryan	2000 - 2015	Williston, VT	Silhouette

2015.12.04:

"In July 2015, the ABM acquired Silhouette from Judge Bryan for use in its in water fleet. The boat will be used to give museum visitors rides and to educate and train the next generation of young sailors." (source: submitted online) previous note: Original owner Daniel Bacon was a member of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club in New York. [Until 2015 the boat was] owned by Alden Bryan, a superior court judge in Vermont. Judge Bryan bought it through Pendleton Yacht Yard after they had completely restored it in 2000. It is now in excellent condition and sails on Lake Champlain. Stanley Pendleton converted it's then marconi rig to it's current gaff rig (as it was originally) when he restored it.

Ron Render	1990 - 2000	San Diego, CA	Loafer
Jack Sutphen	2000 - 2013	San Diego, CA	Loafer

Jack Sutphen owned Loafer and sailed her in San Diego harbor. Jack had worked as coach and skipper of the Dennis Connor trial horses. Jack bought the boat from Ron Render, who got her from a John Burton of South Boston in January of 1990. John had got it from a school teacher who had owned her for about 15-20 years. The schoolteacher bought her from Bill Harding, who used her as one of the boats to take lines from for the Doughdish.

Jack passed away in early 2013, and possession of the boat transferred to his good friend John DeForest.

This boat has not been sailed much in the past few years, and is in need of restoration. It is stored on the waterfront in Cataumet, MA. It is owned by a consortium of 4 children of the second owner, Frederick Eustis. Cindy Longstaff is the daughter of one of these owners and is the unofficial caretaker of the boat for her family. She believes her grandfather got it from Barden's. It has always been named Manatee.

This boat probably went to Marion, MA. The prior owner got the boat several years ago from someone in Boothbay Harbor. It is in excellent condition. It is oak with a marconi rig. He sails it in Belfast, Maine. Hull was refastened in 1981 and 1982, two rivets per frame, by Gordon Swift and Brian Foss (the original fastenings were left intact). Dark-green topsides with white boottop and decks. Stanley Pendleton is giving it a complete restoration

William J. Strawbridge	1938 - 1978	Northeast Harbor, ME	Heffalump

This boat is on exhibit at the Herreshoff Marine Museum. It has a square-profile tiller, and the rear deck is canvas-covered. The name on the transom is 'Heffalump'. It was one of the 6 boats in the Larchmont class. It was sold by Henry L. Maxwell to William J. Strawbridge in 1938. It was donated to the museum by Mr. Strawbridge in 1978. The boat has a Leg O' Mutton (Marconi) rig, and was the 7th boat to be so configured.

Phil Tobey	1947 - 1978	Hingham, MA	Thistle

Thistle was owned by Phil Tobey of Hingham, MA. The boat was destroyed in a storm in February of 1978. Phil broke the boat up and had a new fiberglass boat build by Cape Cod Shibuilding. He used the spars from the original in his new boat. The spars have since been sent to the Herreshoff Museum, and the original transom is on a wall in his house.

Seal is good shape, the hull is painted blue with white bottom; seats, spruce mast, boom, gaff and forestaysail boom and oak trim are all varnished, deck canvas is a cream/yellow color. The canvas was replaced in 2001. Interior is white with relatively new oiled teak flooring. A fiberglass layer was applied below the water line at some time before Mr. Moore purchased the boat on February 8, 1997 for $9000 from Carol Reinisch, of 45 Marvin Circle, Falmouth, MA. Seal was maintained by the boat builders Eldred-Cooper in Woods Hole, MA prior to Bob's purchase. Mr. Cooper indicated that he had maintained the boat for many years, and the boat was originally located around New Bedford, MA.

Eyesweet is owned by Douglas Viehmann and Ann Vivian of Burlington, VT, and sailed by David Vivian of Saunderstown, RI. George W. Zachorne, Jr. did a conservative restoration on her between 1996-98. David wanted to preserve as much of the original wood as practical. Her original name was Little Lady and was delivered to Bristol, MA. The builder's plate is kept in a safe deposit box in Vermont. She was sailed from the Lake Champlain Yacht Club from 1984 until 1996, underwent George's two year re-build, and was re-launched in July 1998 at the Saunderstown Yacht Club. Doug and Ann purchased her in September 1983 from a young woman sailmaker in Bristol, MA who had owned her for three years.

Andy Reiser	1960 - 1996	East Greenwich, RI

Owned by Susan Maffei Plowden of Jamestown, RI. She was found in an old mill in Wickford, RI where she had been stored by the Reiser family (E. Greenwich, RI), who had owned her since the '60's. She has been fully restored by John Plowden and a couple of students from the International Yacht Restoration School. Grace was relaunched in Oct. '01 in Jamestown, RI. Original parts include all planking (exc. garboards), keel, sheerstrake, seats, mast/spars. New parts incl. the transom (oak), toerail and covering boards, floors, ribs, bulkheads, floorboards, and standing and running rigging. Most of the hardware is original, though there are a couple of parts from J. Reineck.

Tarbaby, #1047, built for Arthur Lyman and is now owned by the husband of Lyman's grand-daughter (who was a Simmons). The boat is in bad shape, and they have resisted attempts by people to buy and restore her. However, they donated her to the Cohasset Yacht Club on 2003. The boat was then given to Alfred Slanetz, owner of the NY30 Cara Mia, under the proviso that he restore her. Alfred will be giving the job to MPG.

"Further upgrades to BANDIT commenced on May 23, 2016 when hull# 1137 was returned to Bristol, RI to have her white oak transom replaced and all planks below the waterline splined for increased tightness and recaulking. Both tasks were completed by East Passage Boatwrights of Bristol, RI on June 7, 2016." (source: email) previous note: BANDIT was donated to the Museum by Mary Janney in about 2000. She is the daughter of the original owner. She sailed it from the Quisset Yacht Club. The current owner, a 1995 graduate of the Landing School of Boatbuilding & Design Small Boat Program, took the lead in completely rebuilding BANDIT and had it restored at Mt. Hope Boatworks in Bristol. Seth Hagen and Bro Dunn, professional boatbuilders and the current owner completed the restoration over a 2 1/2 year period under the watchful eye of Jim Titus, owner of Mt Hope Boatworks. BANDIT is approximately 85%+ new construction. The only original materials from her original construction in 1930 besides some of her hardware are her keel plank, deadwood, lead ballast, sheer clamps port and starboard and her original planking starting with the planks below her sheer plank, all the way down to her broad planks, both port and starboard. Extra care went into the selection of BANDIT's new white oak coamings and new Herreshoff style sheer strakes or rub rails. Both the coamings and sheer strakes are matchbook quarter-sawn white oak. All planks are full length, without butt blocks. BANDIT, purchased from the Herreshoff Museum, was in near derelict condition when purchased but still had her shape and represented a good reconstruction candidate, helped by a new white oak transom that the owner guesses was replaced approximately ten years earlier and done well enough to retain. Original builder's plate is in hand #1137. BANDIT sports all new silicon bronze bolting, all new silicone bronze fasteners and Jim Reineck & Son Herreshoff reproduction hardware. BANDIT can usually be seen participating in the annual Herreshoff Classic Boat Regatta in Bristol, RI.

Owned by Stephen V. Millet, proprietor of the Wood And Water boat shop in Wickford, RI. The boat was originally built for Mr. Millet's grandfather, Charles B. Rockwell, and has been in the family ever since. Mr. Millet plans to pass her to his son. He recently rebuilt her, including new decks fore and aft, coamings, matched white oak from a single piece, covering boards and all trim in bird's eye maple. He also replaced the transom with one made out of black locust. Her tiller is hand carved out of bird's eye maple with a skull with black top hat at end for grip. It does not have the correct seats

12/09/2016 - notes from Carter Richardson, new owner and owner of East Passage Boatwrights in Bristol, RI: work on her includ[ed] a couple of new underwater planks, sheer strake repair, some new frames, new deck canvas (sunbrella), new sole and coamings and some spar repairs.

7/23/2004: Owned by Bill Beardsley of Marion, MA., who also has a Herreshoff 15, totally restored by MP&G. Bill has owned Shadow since 1971, and always will. Her original name was "Betty" (after the daughter of the original owner, Butler, who Bill knew). She does not have the hull plate. She was delivered in May of 1930 to Barden's Boat Yard in Marion, which acted (and still occasionally does) as an agent for the boats. That summer, she appeared in the Beverly Yacht Club register as belonging to a summer resident of Marion named Butler, brother-in-law to the Converses of Marion. Because the HMC records show her going to Barden's, we are not 100% sure the Butlers were the first owners, but it stands to reason. The Converse family had her thru the war and she eventually went to another family in Marion named Robinson. Bill bought her from another Marion family, the DeWalts. They said they bought her from someone in R.I., so that piece is missing. She's in good condition, although not perfect. She's had all new frames & floor timbers, a few new planks or pieces of planks, a new aft deck and transom, the latter twice. She's perfectly sound, although her hull isn't as fair as desired, considering the new frames and fastenings. She has been to many events at the Herreshoff Museum. Katy-Did, hull #1159, was one of Bill's grandfather's (Herbert Newbury) two boats, named after his aunt Katherine. Delivered 5/9/1930.

Owned by Patrick and Elsie Wilmerding of Chestnut Hill, MA and sailed in Northeast Harbor, Maine. Originally built for A. J. Drexel-Paul, and later owned by Rosecrans Baldwin of Seal Harbor, Maine until 1979. She was renamed "Pamplemousse" by Isabel Storey then. She was sold in the fall of 2002 to Patrick and Elsie Wilmerding of Blue Hill, Maine and Massachusetts, and was renamed "Polywog". She is under the care of the Classic Boat Shop of Bernard, Maine. Mr. Wilmerding sailed Tarbaby in Maine when he was younger, a boat that now belongs to Alfred Slanetz.

Margot has sailed BUNKY since the 1940's. She was originally built for the Herreshoff family and named after Nat Herreshoff's grandson Bunky, the name she still carries today. Margot's father, Alan Bemis, purchased BUNKY in 1944 or 1945 and she was sailed to Maine from around Cape Cod by an old Maine skipper that fall. She has been at High Head ever since. BUNKY was rebuilt in 1995 by Brion Rieff of Brooklin, ME.

Cape Cod Shipbuilding has this hull. A customer purchased a new fiberglass boat from them and wanted to destroy the wooden one. They took all of the hardware, the seats & keel out to be used in her fiberglass boat except for the chain plates. They kept the wooden hull, where it still sits in deteriorating condition. They still have the builder's plate.

Owen Brooks	1964 - 1981	Amityville, NY	Target

This boat was at the Herreshoff yard when damaged by the 1938 hurricane. This is why the port-side coaming is pieced together - it was broken horizontally by the storm. She was purchased by Becky Herreshoff and re-built by Sydney Herreshoff for sons Nathanael and Halsey to learn to sail in. It has 2-piece seats and chromed bronze hardware. It was donated to museum in 1981 by Owen E. Brooks. This one is a real mystery, because the building record states that hull 1376 was not built. However, it was part of the factory mixup where the actual assigned numbers did not match the records. According to John Palmieri of the Herreshoff Museum, this is NOT the actual hull number of Minx. He believes they found this plate lying around unused (as it would be if the corresponding hull was never built), and simply attached it to Minx, which was missing its plate.

Petunia has been proudly owned by Chuck Paine of Tenants Harbor, Maine for the last 30 years. Chuck is a well known yacht designer and artist, and his work graced the cover of version 1 of this registry. He bought her in 1972 from Bernard Smith of North Haven. Her name at that time was Bassinet. He had bought her as an investment when the Dark Harbor (Islesboro) fleet broke up, because the millionaire owners got tired of the expense of maintaining their boats. Chuck paid $1350 for her, and Bernard thought he'd bested a young city slicker on the deal. Chuck says he "will never part with her at any price except by divine intervention".

It has plywood fore and aft decks that are canvas covered. George W. Zachorne, Jr. bought this 12 ½ in 1985 as a wreck, from Eric Johansson of North Kingstown, RI, intending to keep it for himself. In 1986 he found himself with out any work and sold the boat to Sandy Crouchley of Bristol, RI. Poppy was back at his shop for more repairs and general maintenance over a ten year period. She took first place it the Herreshoff Rendezvous in 1987. The boat is currently used by the Herreshoff Museum Sailing Program.

Mrs. H.G. Nichols
William Saltonstall	? - 1991	North Haven, ME	Greased Lightning

Greased Lightning, #1447, is one of the group of boats bought by members of the North Haven Yacht Club in 1938. Sixteen were ordered at the time at $890. The numbers moved around a little with owners not necessarily getting the boats that are listed against their name on the HMC list. So #1447 ended up in the Saltonstall family, owned by Mrs. R.M. Saltonstall. Greased Lightning came to Penobscot Marine Museum in 1991, as a gift of Mrs. Emily Saltonstall Byrd and William Saltonstall who had grown up sailing the boat. Locally, they were known as Fox Eyes. She is pretty complete and in good condition having raced the year before she came to the museum. She has one of the late plates.

Owned by Janice Williams of Bristol, Rhode Island. Sailed by Janice's daughter Shawen and her husband Andrew MacKeith, commodore of the Naragansett Bay Herreshoff 12 1/2 Footer Association. Condition is excellent, and is sailed regularly. At one time she was sunk to avoid a hurricane. She is kept in the barn at Fish Hawk Farm in Bristol where the air is damp in summer and not too cold in winter. In the summer she stays on the mooring outside the house. She was not used from 1977 to 1992, and some other periods. Fish Hawk was ordered after the 1938 hurricane (The 1938 hurricane did a lot of damage in Bristol) and was delivered in 1939, for Janice's 16th birthday. The sheer strake is mahogany, a single piece mast partner, a Marconi rig, and one-piece seats.

Anne Cross	???? - 1994	Cataumet, MA
Irene Haney	1994 - 2011	Centerville, MA	Hope

This boat was originally sold through Barden. At some time in her past, the hull was glassed. She was outfitted with a new transom in the mid-1990s.

This boat is still owned by the original family. The original owners were the family of Dr. Benjamin H. Alton and Elizabeth Moen Alton. The name Daphie is from the four Alton children (Dorothy, Alison, Philip and Elizabeth). The restoration of this boat is the subject of a 2008 book by Daniel Robb, SLOOP. It is worthwhile noting that the record has #1486 being bought by Dr. Benjamin Alton. This is not the case ...he bought 1471. There must have been a mixup in the office.

Owned by Mary Howe DeWolf Shepherd of Bristol, RI. It has plywood fore and aft decks that are canvas covered. It was bought to replace Rhode Island Red (Hull # 1117, built in 1929), which was lost in the 1938 Hurricane. She was damaged in the 1960 hurricane, and the wreck was bought and restored by Jack Tiplady. Eventually, she was re-purchased by Mary Howe DeWolfe, her original owner and is still in the DeWolfe family. George W. Zachorne, Jr. started working on her in 1990.

Viking was beautifully restored by Ballentine's Boat Shop and is exquisitely maintained there. She is energetically raced and has won the last two Junior H Class Championships. She spends most of the summer taking us on picinics and sails out into Buzzards Bay. She has survived the learning experiences of numerous children plus many unplanned encounters with sandbars, docks and anchor flukes. Despite that, she is still a head-turner wherever she sails.

Owned by the Newcombe's of Bristol, RI. Original owner was Edsel B. Ford, who sailed it in Maine. It has plywood fore and aft decks that are canvas covered. This boat was completely restored by George W. Zachorne, Jr. in the winter of 1990-91. According to Ms. Newcomb, this boat replaced the original Frolic (Hull #1475) which was lost in the 1950's. The boat is used in the Herreshoff Museum sailing program.

Jalien believes Rocket is hull 1488, though that is not what the builder's plate says. She got the boat in 1968 from a Mrs. Walmsley. The plate on the boat says 1473, which belongs to a yacht tender. We suspect that an owner may have switched the plates during maintenance by mistake.

This boat is a Fisher's Island Model (or an 'improved model' in HMC record). Her builder's plate is starboard of the mast on the main beam – it must have been moved there by one of the boat's owners. The current owners bought her from Stu Hample in 2003, and keep her on Shelter Island. Stu had it for about 7 or 8 years. He bought it from a Boston woman named Bonnie Robinson, through Bud Thayer's Y-Knot Boat Yard in North Haven, Me, where it had been unused for 4 years under the name "Jedda." He had Thayer completely refit and paint it after it was surveyed by Sam Slaymaker.

Andy Mutch	1996 - 2006	Boothbay Harbor, ME	Wasp

This boat was purchased by Pamela Lenehan in September, 2006. Pam is making the boat available for the Herreshoff Museum Sailing School. Previously, Wasp was owned by Andy Mutch and his wife of Annapolis, MD. She sailed her in Linekin Bay, near the summer home in Boothbay. She was restored by Rick Prose of West Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Finest Kind Wooden Boats, in 2002. She was bought from the Herreshoff Museum. They went on a trial sail with Halsey Herreshoff. She is an 'improved model', which means she has wider sidedecks, copper flotation tanks, a raised lazarette, and an over-the-transom tiller. According to Andy, Halsey told him that Sidney designed the improved model after his father capsized a boat in Bermuda or Florida. She originally had mahogany transom and coamings, though Rick replaced the transom with white oak.

It has canvas-covered plywood decks. Ben Strohecker, CEO of Harbor Sweets in Salem, MA owned her at the time she went to George W. Zachorne, Jr. for restoration. He hadn't gotten very far into the job when Ben decided to sell her. There is a candy named Sweet Sloop, which is shaped as this boat. She was sold to Don Stone of North Kingstown, RI. Don's intention was to restore her himself. After storing the boat for two years he sold her back to Zachorne. George noted that she showed poorer construction and slipshod use of material, as did Nuthatch. Needless to say, after George was finished she is in now top condition.

Nuthatch was totally restored her in the winter of 2001-02 by George W. Zachorne, Jr. She had previously been covered with fiberglass. This boat was apparently built with leftover pieces, as not all of her planks were of the same kind of wood, many being of Western red cedar. Prior to the restoration, the construction quality was poor, but she is now in quite good shape. Nuthatch was once sailed very successfully by Johnny Hallowell in the Wings Neck area of Buzzards Bay. It is discussed in the 2003 bestseller, The Big House, by George Howe Colt.

Dovekie, missing builder's plate. Owned by the Rhode Island Historical Society Museum, with an accession number of 2001.168.1. Acquired in 2001 from Francis Mayo of Marblehead, MA. I looked at this boat in Fran Mayo's shed in July, 2000. It was in poor condition, and he was asking $6000. It has a marconi rig, and probably oak trim. The Mayo's owned her from 1991 – 2001. She sank in Marblehead Harbor in about 1999. Before she was the Mayo's, she belonged to the Seamans family of Marblehead, MA for about 40 years. The boat is currently stored at Hinckley Yacht sales

Tom Hovey	1992 - 2006	Gloucester, MA	Ready Fox
IYRS	2008 - 2008	Newport, RI	Ready Fox

Hurrah is moored off the Essex Yacht Club in Essex, CT. She was donated (Ready Fox) to IYRS in 2008 and fully restored in 2009 by IYRS students. The new owner, Gerry Migliaccio, had the rig returned to the original gaff and the name returned to Hurrah. She has a light green hull, black boot stripe and red bottom. It is missing it's builder's plate, but is believed to be from 1930-1931. Tom Hovey stored it inside in Gloucester, MA. It is white with a red boot and green bottom. It was originally gaff rigged, but there is also a marconi rig, which was made in 2002. The boat was restored in 2001 by Harold Burnham. He added new ribs (not sistered), replaced transom, replaced garboards. Tom acquired the boat from Leonard Perry, of Padanaram one-time commodore of the New Bedford Yacht Club, in about 1995. Leonard Perry got it in 1987 from Dan White of Mattapoisett. It was named Hurrah when Leonard owned it. Dan inherited the boat from his Dad, George White, who was an avid collector and had 7 boats at the time of his passing.

Bill Yetman	1968 - 1974		Gringolet
Eleanor Ferns	1974 - 2005		Gringolet

This boat was almost destroyed in 1954 by Hurricane Carol. Her keel, deadwood, stem, and a piece of the bow were all that remained. Her original bow hardware reveals her to be a genuine Herreshoff. She was rebuilt at the Quisset Boatyard by a team that included Bill Cooper of the Woods Hole Museum and was sold in 1956 to Ann and Marco Rivinus, who named her Triton and sailed her out of the Quisset Harbor Yacht Club. Hard times forced the Rivinus' to sell the boat, and it was purchased by Bill Yetman in 1968, who renamed her Gringolet (Sir Gwain's horse). He sailed it until 1974 when he sold it to the husband of Eleanor Ferns. Curt Brand purchased the boat in 2005 and refurbished it with the help and guidance of Eric Dow and his crew. In the summer of 2007 Ann Rivinus and her two daughters joined the Brands' in Buck's Harbor for a memorable sail. Curt is still searching for the original identity of the boat.

Rev. McConville	???? - 1974
Lennert Blomberg	1974 - 1977	Cape Cod		H-17

It is uncertain whether this boat is HMC or CCSB. When Warren bought the boat, the transom, shear strakes, and cockpit coamings were mahogany; the shear strakes are moulded and the transom is flat. The foredeck, bulkheads, and lazarette top are plywood. There is a bronze casting for the boom crutch in the lazarette top. The cedar planking was full-length, with no butt joints. When Warren bought her in 1977 she was Marconi rigged, but she has since been changed to gaff. She was restored by Warren, Gena, Quentin, and Jared Rohlfs and Zimmerman Marine.
